Solutions, systems, and support to help women get organized, manage time, create contentment and build their best life

WELCOME...

On a snowy day in 2003 I came to a realization: I was spending a lot of days “getting by,” but not really living. The days where I felt “in the zone” were sporadic. Many days my head hit the pillow without a clear knowledge of what I had accomplished that day. I was watching time fly and life go by— but was I really an active participant, making the most of each day? I knew the answer was “no.”

This answer did not sit well with me, so I embarked on a mission. I decided that each day, when I awoke, I would take one step forward in positive change. The goal was simple: Continue taking forward steps until I was creating the life I deserved and desired.

I knew accountability would be key in the quest and asked readers of previous books to join me. Within a week, 3,000 other women and I began the journey—a journey toward making today matter.

Those initial steps led me down a path I had not foreseen. Together, we created a momentum, an energy, a new way of living that began spreading by word of mouth. Within three years, over 100,000 women had used the tools that developed from that journey.

Since then, I have continued to develop and refine those tools, while devoting my life to working with women who want more out of life. Perhaps the “more” is an organized home, better relationships, less stress, a family dinner hour, a health and fitness plan that works, career success, improved esteem, an effective file system—Make Today Matter, LLC. is devoted to solutions that can help you.

This catalog brings many of our solutions to you. Browse and enjoy the products, programs, and services developed in response to women like you who want to make the most of each day.

Make today matter,

Brook Noël

WHAT WOMEN ARE SAYING...

“Brook Noel’s tools have guided, inspired, and motivated me to cultivate better relationships with those I love, create a more peaceful home, adopt a joyful outlook, and connect with my authentic self. I recommend them highly to anyone wanting to take deliberate steps toward a fuller, more rewarding life.” Sarah, Pennsylvania

“Brook Noel’s programs have changed my life. The Catch-All Notebook is indeed my new best friend. My mind is so uncluttered now. If this is the impact in one week of using these tools, I can’t wait to see my progress a month from now!” -Kathleen, United Kingdom

“I have seen so many positive changes in my life from using Brook’s tools. I just wanted to let you know that your words of wisdom are helping one gal from Texas keep it all together.” -Deena, Texas

“Clear some space out of your schedule and work through Brook’s system of getting organized, healthy, and financially responsible. Brook takes all the things in our lives that keep us off balance—from overstuffed closets to forgetting to take ourselves—and gives simple steps to create a balanced, simplified life.” Elizabeth Dargis, “Simplicity Coach,” Michigan

“I am so glad someone showed me Brook’s products. Using her tools is one of the best things I have done for myself in a long time.” Lizzy, Minnesota

“My life has felt like chaos for several months (years?) and reading about Brook’s tools came at a critical time in my life. I am getting more done in the past few days than I was accomplishing in the past few months. I was feeling paralyzed by the volume of things I had to do, and now I feel like I can move freely through my day!” Lisa, New Mexico

“These tools showed me an easier way to manage my house and children than going crazy every day hunting things down. I have family time back again, and that is truly a gift.” Dorothy, California

“By using the Make Today Matter Online System I have learned that life is much more pleasant when it isn’t a race or out of control. I have realized that anyone can be well-rounded and have everything that matters, when they have continuous support, goals, and a course of action for life. By using this system, I no longer feel like I just exist, but that I am actually living and getting to where I want to be.” Lynda, Ontario

“Finally, a simple plan to follow. This is helping me and changing me for the better. I am so grateful to have found your program!” Kimberly, New York

MAKE TODAY MATTER LIFE SYSTEM

INCLUDES FEATURES LISTED ON PAGES 6-12

A revolutionary program to help you get organized, conquer clutter, manage time, regain energy, save money, create contentment, master mealtimes, and build the life you want ...

Inspired by her bestselling book, The Change Your Life Challenge, Brook's Make Today Matter Online Life System brings step-by-step support, guidance, and a revolutionary approach to help you build your best life.

If you think you have "tried everything" and there "isn't any hope left," think again. That is what hundreds of women thought prior to the Make Today Matter Online Life System. Organize your life, control clutter, prioritize and more with this innovative program.

The Make Today Matter Toolbox includes 30 step-by-step guides to help you save time, regain control, get organized, eliminate chaos and clutter, feel better, regain energy, build balance, and find more joy in your life. After completing the 30 Step Toolbox, enjoy a customized monthly program tailored to help you improve the life areas most needing attention.

A SAMPLING OF THE MANY BENEFITS OF MTM:

- Access the MTM Library for event transcripts and exclusive printables
- Meet other women and build friendships in our positive, moderated community
- Download monthly meal plans in 2, 4 or 6 servings
- Interact with Brook at special online events
- Use our moderated online action room to get motivated and get things done (available 6AM-11PM CST weekdays and 9PM-11PM CST weekends)
- Choose three specialized Mini-Workshops each month: These action-oriented Mini Makeovers are content-packed, specialized action plans to help you implement a desired change quickly. Each workshop includes a printable lesson (6-30 pages), action plan, message board and online accountability tools.

HOUSEWORK HELPERS

Could you use a little help from some friends?

"If you told me I would ever use the words cleaning and fun in the same sentence, I would say you were certifiably nuts. I would have been wrong."

Michelle, Arizona

Meet Housework Helpers... transforming cleaning from fret to fun!

One of the reasons many women loathe housework is because it is never-ending. Undoubtedly, as soon as the dining room table is cleared and laundry hamper empty, we turn to find a new pile or full hamper. Conquering housework on a daily basis is often overlooked by family members—but with a little help from the Housework Helpers community, cleaning can be manageable and fun!

HOW IT WORKS: Every 30 minutes, between the hours of 6:00 AM and 11:00 PM CST Monday through Friday, and 9:00 AM to 11:00 PM CST on weekends, a trained moderator asks participants to share an action area they plan to focus on. Twenty minutes later, women report back to their computer screens to share progress.

WHY WOMEN LOVE IT... While your partner or children may not realize the challenge of matching every sock, other women do. Enjoy praise and encouragement for your hard work. What was once a source of drudgery has become an anticipated time for community and accomplishment.

"My husband laughed when I started cleaning and doing "online sprints." He thought I was going through another phase. Ten weeks later, I think he is your biggest fan!" Sharon, Oregon

"I attended my first sprint yesterday and can't believe how much fun I had cleaning! I was laughing out loud! I love the encouragement and recognition - it really keeps me motivated!" Jennifer, Arizona

MENUS & MEALTIMES BINDER

Never wonder "what's for dinner" again

If you have ever stared blankly at your pantry or refrigerator while people clamor with the infamous question, "What's for dinner?" then Brook Noel's comprehensive Menus & Mealtimes Toolkit is ready to come to your rescue.

$89 sku:5391253

This comprehensive Toolkit provides:

- 12 months of dinner menus, complete with shopping lists. Choose from 2, 4 or 6 servings. These menus are on CD-ROM so you can print multiple copies of the shopping lists to save time.
- Brook's 20+ page Step-by-Step Guide to mastering meal planning which takes you through the process of expanding your Menus and Mealtimes collection with your own menu additions.
- Brook's 15+ page guide for Creating a Recipe Library. This guide shows you how to corral recipes for reference and then to build from that reference shelf to create additional menus.
- Toolkit assembled in a three-ring coral view binder.
- Includes a red, 8 page, soft-poly binder to protect recipes while cooking.
- Use the 5 blank tabs to divide recipes.
- 1 slash pocket for holding notes, menus, and more.

I have 4 kids ages 13, 10, 8, and 3. My 8-year-old son starts complaining about what we are having for dinner long before I ever get it on the table. I was so tired of hearing him complain, I didn't even feel like cooking. When I received an e-mail about the Meal Plan service, I decided to give it a try. I hung the menu on the fridge where my kids could see it and was surprised to see how excited they were about it. My son only complained about 1 meal all month long, and I actually cooked dinner 6 nights a week instead of my usual 3-4. It is so nice to sit down each night to eat as a family. Thanks a million! PROJECT MANAGEMENT TOOLKIT

Projects require multiple action steps to complete and often stretch out over a period of time or require the involvement of others. Learning how to break down a project into realistic action steps is the first key to accomplishing that project. Learning how to give your plan a “reality check” is the second key, and the third key is implementation and revision.

Brook's Project Management Binder shows you how to break down a project using mapping techniques and overview worksheets to create a solid plan of action.

This Toolkit includes:

- 3 Project Management Expandable Files (color coded - red, blue, green)
- 3 Expanding multi-page sheet protectors (color coded - red, blue, green)
- 3 Slash Pockets (color coded - red, blue, green)
- 3 Project Envelopes
- Brook's Project Management Guide
- Printed Project Overview and Breakdown Worksheets (10 of each, 20 total)
- CD-ROM to print additional Project Worksheets

Perfect for....

1. Anyone who has a lot of project management in their personal or professional life.
2. Anyone struggling with all the paper involved in a project
3. Anyone who finds they tend to “stall” on projects and need proven techniques to keep them moving forward

The Self-Esteem Toolbox

Many are caught in a negative web of emotions, cycles and thought-patterns. Emotions like worry, guilt, self-criticism, sadness, stress, and anxiety take up residence in our minds and souls and begin to direct our lives. Brook lived like this for many years. She longed to find a “core,” a “center” that was inspiring versus draining. Brook knew that living life to its fullest, maximizing the joy in each day, loving herself, and the contributions she could make to friends, family and community relied on finding this core.

After years of trial and error, Brook found that “core.” She invites you to discover a bright path and learn how to leave behind the ever-present shadows of doubt, anxiety, self-criticism, worry, and other belittling thought patterns in the past.

Journaling:

Self Discovery through the Written Word

Throughout the ages, many women have used journaling to solve problems, gain insight, and encourage self-discovery. One need not be a writer or creative person to derive the benefits that can only be found through the practice of journaling.

The disciplined practice of journaling has personally changed my life and those of countless other women. The key to successful journaling is the understanding of how and what to journal about in order to create a written record that becomes one of your closest friends.

This e-workbook, adapted from Brook's four-week course, takes you step-by-step through practical journaling techniques that allow you to gain insight, learn about yourself, reduce stress, solve problems and overcome obstacles.

The Practice of Journaling

In the first five lessons, we will explore how women of both past and present have used journaling as the primary key to self-discovery. You'll learn the "guidelines" that allow your journaling to be a rich source of information and an enjoyable practice. This week you will try five different journaling techniques to "get your feet wet."

Journaling for Self-Discovery

In the second set of lessons, attention turns to how the journal can be used as a path to self-discovery. Using journal prompts you will explore aspects of your life, balance, desires and needs.

Journaling to Solve Problems

These lessons share how journaling can be practically applied to solve problems. You'll be encouraged to choose one challenge or problem to work with throughout the week. Three different journaling techniques will be applied to this problem to help uncover the solution.

Journaling to Understand

In the last set of lessons, you will learn how to use your past journal entries to understand current challenges and options available to you. You'll learn how to detect common themes among your entries which lead to further understanding of the self. This week also includes 50 journal prompts that you can use to continue your voyage of self-discovery.

Staying Motivated How to harness focus and energy to maximize each day

Have you ever enjoyed one of those days where everything seemed to sync and just fall into place? Despite what your to-do list entailed, you moved through it with ease and satisfaction. Many people believe these days “in the zone” are a matter of luck and rare occurrences to be savored.

These days aren't a matter of luck, or just a good day; there is actually a sequence of events that create this high-functioning zone. It is not lack of willpower or self-discipline that creates off days. We cannot muster willpower and motivation from thin air.

Contrary to popular belief, we are not born with willpower, –it isn't something you have or do not have. Science shows that willpower, discipline, focus and flow are created through a unique series of steps. Once the formulas are understood, anyone can apply them to any aspect of life.

After reading thousands of pages, this workbook distills what Brook Noel has learned (and seen work) into easy-to-understand techniques that can be applied to realize maximum focus, flow and self-discipline. These qualities allow you to move past obstacles, reframe your experience, and experience daily success.

Week One: The Mind We Were Born With: When we understand what we are working with, we begin to see how this basic programming is reflected in our beliefs and actions. This week you will uncover how these patterns are at work in your own life.

Week Two: Thoughts Control the Thinker: This week you'll discover how thoughts control the thinker and how this can be the major factor that improves or impoverishes your life.

Week Three: In the Zone: Zone and Flow have been defined as a period of optimal experience, when a person is able to clearly move forward without being distracted or sidetracked. In this state, people often lose track of time all together. This week you will learn how flow works and gain insight for creating flow in your own life.

Week Four: Living the Lessons: This week we will blend your knowledge and notes from the first three weeks into an action plan for daily living.

Organizing Arts, Crafts, Stamps, and Scrapbook Supplies

Get your creative space organized! Save time. Looks less and create more!

Often in the midst of creativity we do not want to stop and put something back or lose our flow by searching for a misplaced item. Before we know it our creative space is pile upon pile. Brook Noel faced these challenges and began to work through her creative space, using new approaches and knowledge from her other organizational systems. She adapted these to specifically match people when in the "creative zone." This led to the "creative organizational system," that is shared in the Workbook. While you can work at your own pace, the lessons are structured over a five week time frame to help you customize your own personal creative space.

Week One: Taking Stock: This week a step-by-step plan will help you "take inventory" of all the major groups of crafts we will be organizing as well their major "sub-categories." This will provide a high-level overview as we get down to the business in week two.

Week Two: Thinking it Through and Mapping Out Your Space: We begin by answering a series of questions about your creative personality, obstacles, how often you use materials, etc. We then hone in on the specific questions for the categories identified during week one. Using this information we will map out our space (no matter how big or small) to make a physical-plan that is maximized for creative endeavors.

Week Three: Thinking Outside the Box: Big containers with drawers, little containers with drawers, plastic boxes with lids, plastic boxes without lids, cute material organizers, binders, files--the choices are endless! In these lessons Brook shares the pros and cons of how to "store the stuff" and how to identify solutions that match your creative personality.

Week Four: Putting It All Together: Using the solid written plan we created, these lessons mark the start of "major" implementation. While we will have completed some organizing-warm-ups in preceding weeks, this is the time where we truly dive in!

Week Five: Organizing Support and Your Questions Answered: In these lessons, Brook covers common organizing questions and provide a comprehensive list of resources. Lastly, we create a walk-thru and maintenance plan for our craft area as well as outline any remaining tasks to complete.

Vision and Values a 30 Day Workbook

This workbook combines three MTM Mini-Workshops: Uncovering Your Personal Values; Value Cards: A Compass for Contentment; and How to Create A Personal Vision Statement (see page 8 to learn more about Mini-Makeover Workshops).

Part One: Uncovering Your Core Values

Clear values act as a filter. In times of indecision, we can compare options to our guiding values to make a decision. Values are the seams which shape the fabric of our lives. Without defined values, we have torn seams where the unwanted can sneak in, and our energy can sneak out. Values allow us to advance confidently in a meaningful direction. Without them we will be blown around by the emotions, people, and external events of the day. In this section you are guided through eight exercises to help you hone in one to three core values from the included Values List of 295 values.

Part Two: Value Cards: A Compass for Contentment

Knowing our core values is the first step in building a life of contentment and joy. But how do we use these values to shape our lives? In this section, Brook shows you how to incorporate these values into daily life to ensure you are living your life “on purpose” in alignment with these key values. Includes 4 activities, journaling space, values worksheet and sample value cards.

Part Three: Creating a Personal Vision Statement

A Vision Statement encompasses the values we hold dear, the overall “theme” we want to live in our life. Without a vision, you are likely to wander aimlessly because there is no uniting purpose between daily actions and a larger vision. A clear vision statement will help us choose daily actions and make decisions that are right for us. There may be a million things we want to do, but only a few that will truly create the life we desire because they align with our vision. Includes 6 activities.

Change Your Life Challenge

Step by Step Solutions for Finding Balance, Creating Contentment, Getting Organized and Building the Life You Want

- Are you struggling to keep up with life?
- Do you have a list of to-dos you will get to "someday?"
- Are you overwhelmed with the needs of others, leaving little time for yourself?
- Have you tried other "life management" programs with no success?
- Are you tired of mood, attitude, and energy swings?

Over 160,000 women, many of whom felt the same way, have changed their lives for the better using the strategies Brook Noel presents in this book.

Created by life management expert Brook Noel, The Change Your Life Challenge offers easy but effective step-by-step solutions for implementing lasting change in every major life area.

Created by Brook Noel as she sought to make over her own life in an achievable step-by-step fashion, the premise of The Change Your Life Challenge is that although our lives are complicated, our systems do not need to be. Noel will show readers how to make over finances, friendships, relationships, family, organization, health, fitness, self, home, self-esteem, and spirituality. Readers will learn:

- A step by step system for conquering clutter and keeping your home clean
- How to make time work for you-instead of against you
- How to discover and live by your core values and beliefs
- The key to never forgetting anything
- How to end procrastination

I Wasn't Ready to Say Goodbye surviving, coping and healing after the sudden death of a loved one

Each year about eight million Americans suffer the death of someone close to them. Now for these who face the challenges of sudden death, there is a hand to hold, written by two women who have experienced sudden loss. This updated edition of the best-selling bereavement classic will touch, comfort, uplift and console. Authors Brook Noel and Pamela D. Blair, Ph.D. explore sudden death and offers a comforting hand to hold for those who are grieving the sudden death of a loved one.

Featured on ABC World News, Fox and Friends and many other shows, this book acts as a touchstone of sanity through difficult times. I Wasn't Ready to Say Goodbye covers such difficult topics as the first few weeks, suicide, death of a child, children and grief, funerals and rituals, physical effects, homicide and depression. New material covers the unique circumstances of loss, men and women's grieving styles, religion and faith, myths and misunderstandings, I Wasn't Ready to Say Goodbye reflects the shifting face of grief.

These pages have offered solace to over eighty thousand people, ranging from seniors to teenagers and from the newly bereaved to those who lost a loved one years ago. Individuals engulfed by the immediate aftermath will find a special chapter covering the first few weeks.

Tapping their personal histories and drawing on numerous interviews, authors Brook Noel and Pamela D. Blair, Ph.D, explore unexpected death and its role in the cycle of life. I Wasn't Ready to Say Goodbye provides survivors with a rock-steady anchor from which to weather the storm of pain and begin to rebuild their lives. Praise for I Wasn't Ready to Say Goodbye

*"As one who deals with unexpected death, I am so pleased to find a truly valuable reference for those souls who are blindsided by such misery. This book is thoughtful, thorough, and intensely meaningful. Up until now Rabbi Kushner's reference When Bad Things Happen to Good People has been my mainstay in such circumstances; I will add this book to my recommended list."*
—E. Charles Douville, MD, Cardiothoracic Surgeon, Providence, Portland

"The authors have captured a means of discussing and exploring a very painful life passage in real life, down to earth language and experience. Many thanks to Pam and Brook for their generosity in sharing their discoveries to further our healing." —Charlotte A. Tomaino, PhD, Neuropsychologist

In the wake of sudden loss, the I Wasn't Ready to Say Goodbye Companion Workbook, written by two women who have experienced tragedy, acts as a warm touchstone to navigate the unique emotions and challenges of grief. Tapping their personal histories and drawing on numerous interviews, authors Brook Noel and Pamela D. Blair, PhD, explore unexpected death and its role in the cycle of life.

This edition also includes new material regarding the unique circumstance of loss, men and women's grieving styles, religion, faith and grief's unanswerable questions.

Called a "support group in your hands" by professionals and mourners alike, this companion workbook will comfort, uplift, and console. Exercises guide readers through the gap created by loss, anger, guilt, loss of purpose, and the unique challenges based on the relationship to the loved one. Using a combination of self exploration questions, visualization activities, and journaling, I Wasn't Ready to Say Goodbye Workbook shows grieving readers how to endure, survive, and grow from the pain and turmoil surrounding sudden loss. Combined with the classic I Wasn't Ready to Say Goodbye, this workbook truly places a support vehicle in the hands of those who are mourning. In tandem with the updated edition of the book, the second edition of the workbook reflects the fact that the face of grief has changed in the past 10 years.

Goal Workshop

step-by-step guidance for transforming resolutions into reality

- Do you shoot out of the goal-starting gate but lose steam within a few weeks?
- Have you ever put off a goal because you are waiting for a "better day?"
- Like the majority of American's, have you stopped setting New Year resolutions due to your prior track record?

Have you ever let a goal go because life is just too hectic, or said "I'll wait until next year or (fill in the blank with date of choice) ____."

I T H A S B E E N S A I D the best way to predict the future is to create it and I couldn't agree more. Every December 31st, a special midnight passes, marking a new slate of 365 days. During these once-a-year happenings, millions of people set their intentions and goals for the new year. Most of these people will abandon their goals by February or lose steam. Why? Choosing a goal is only the first step. Reaching a goal requires planning, a goal map, action, attitude, energy and accountability.

This workshop takes you step-by-step through the breakdown Brook uses for setting and achieving goals in her own life. You'll learn:

- What makes a successful goal
- Why you need a VISION and a MISSION and the difference between them
- Your Personal G.Q. (Goal Quotient--not the magazine)
- Your goal strengths and weaknesses
- Why most goals fail.. and how to prevent your goal from doing so
- How to turn dreams into reality with discipline
- How to make sure a goal is S.M.A.R.T.
- How energy and attitude play key factors in success
- How to break through barriers, get started and overcome obstacles
- How to identify key milestones and create a detailed road map
- The importance of a Vision Map
- How to reprogram your mind and attitude for success
- How to put your goal through a CRASH-test for reality, resources and success

Searching for Something

How to uncover (and live) your core values, passion, and purpose

- Have you felt that something is missing, yet been unable to identify what that “something” is?
- Have you ever felt that there must be something more than this?
- Have you ever felt your life is a series of “to-dos” but that you aren’t really living?
- Have you felt that something is missing, yet been unable to identify what that “something” is?

This course is specifically designed for anyone who has struggled to identify their values, passions, and purpose. Over four weeks we will complete a series of exercises that will allow you to CLEARLY articulate the most important forces that drive your life. When we articulate, understand and live by our values, passion, and purpose, we can finally fill that ache that is looking for “something more.”

Week One: Uncovering Your Five Core Values...

This week you will work through a series of exercises that will allow you to clearly and confidently identify your 5 Core Values by week’s end. This exercise alone has been life-changing for many.

Week Two: The Keys to Passion and Balance...

With our values in place, we can focus in on the activities, dreams and goals that align with our values. We will examine how performance is affected by our values, and how, when we perform on purpose in alignment with our values, a natural contentment ensues.

Week Three: Exploring Purpose...

This week, we complete a series of exercises that explore how to combine your discoveries from the first two weeks to begin uncovering your purpose.

Week Four: Living on Purpose...

During Week Four, we combine all of our knowledge from the previous weeks to learn how to live and perform on purpose.

Extreme Home Makeover

10 weeks to the home you want

Have you ever found yourself saying any of the following...

- "I need a personal organizer!"
- "If I could just get a system to keep my house clean..."
- "My house is so cluttered... it needs an overhaul!"

Or have you ever felt that...

- ... you'll never get control of the chaos and clutter?
- ... your family is working against your goal of creating an organized home?
- ... you won't have the organized home of your dreams until your children are grown and gone?

Help is here! Not only will you have a clean and organized home at the end of this 10 week course, you'll have fun in the process. (Yes, cleaning can be fun.)

The before and after contest is always a big hit and the group camaraderie has made this one of our most popular offerings!

This class also includes many bonuses like a free pass to our Housework Helpers sprints. You will have over 80 hours a week where you can join other women online and do "timed cleaning sprints."

Over the course of ten weeks you will work step-by-step through five challenges a week to not only get control of your home--but create a plan to keep it that way! These printable challenges will become an action-workbook to successfully maintain your home.

THIS COURSE WILL HELP YOU:

- Get organized!
- Conquer your house room by room
- Create a routine to keep your house in order
- Join in anonymous before and after contests and win great prizes!
- Group support and online cleaning sprints.
- Work at your own pace. The class is open 24/7
- 50 Quick-Guides to help you get organized!

If you told me I would ever use CLEANING and FUN in the same sentence I would say you were certifiably nuts. I would have been wrong." Michelle, Arizona

Paper Piles & Files

creating file & reference system to stay on top of paper
instead of beneath it

- Are you drowning in paper?
- Is it hard to find the document you need, when you need it?
- Are your drawers overflowing with mail and items to file, kids projects and paperwork?
- Do you have stacks of magazines and information you "want to look at" but haven't had a chance yet?
- Do you have piles of printouts from the Internet that you don't know what to do with?
- Have you purchased multiple paper-sorters, paper gadgets, and organization tools only to find the piles prevail?

If you answered yes to any of these questions, this class is for you. During this five-week course, you will learn a new way to tackle the paper piles once and for all.

Week One: Getting a Grip: This week we take stock of the paper in your life by creating a paper-station inventory. We will discover what type of paper you collect, the needs of your system, and create an action plan for the weeks to come.

Week Two: Diving In: From Piling to Proficiency: We begin this week by learning an innovative five-step system to act on any paper pile and then begin plowing through the papers.

Week Three: What Goes In Doesn't Always Go Out: While what goes up, must come down is a fairly universal law, the paper that seems to come into our lives rarely goes out at the same rate. This week we complete a careful analysis of what is "coming in," and how to create a reference and archive system to handle it.

Week Four: Common Paper Clutter: Kids artwork, magazines, bound and printed matter, stuff from the printer ...what if we need it someday? (More importantly--if we do, will we be able to find it?) This week we cover the most common paper clutter and a series of challenges to get this paper in its place.

Week Five: Creating Your Personal Plan: During our final week together we will complete a walk-through to create a personal paper plan to maintain your new skills. Lastly, you will receive a template of my personal system and routine to stay on top of paper instead of beneath it.

Getting Things Done

learn how to achieve more in less time

Have you ever found yourself saying any of the following...

- "I'll never get everything done."
- "I just don't have enough time."
- "There isn't enough time in the day!"
- "I need more time when I have energy to conquer this pile."

This class will show you step-by-step how to manage your time effectively and achieve more in fewer hours. At the end of the workbook, you will have your own master schedule that incorporates moods, interruptions, energy peaks, and reality.

Unfortunately, many time management programs require that you adapt to their system. If there is anything that will never be a one-size-fits-all solution it is time management! No one will understand the exact challenges you face, but you! That's why this entire process guides you in customizing my best time management tips and tools to meet YOUR needs.

Everyday Paper Piles creating a customized and efficient system for managing everyday paper

- Are you drowning in paper?
- Do you spend more time looking for paper than you care to admit?
- Do you ever pay bills late or miss redeeming a coupon or offer because you have misplaced the paperwork?
- Does all of the "incoming paper" in your life land on the kitchen or dining room table?

This class offers a new approach to deal with the paper piles in our life. In fact, the number one organizing question I hear is ... "HOW DO I CONTROL THE PAPER in my life!?"

Week by Week Outline:

Week One: Setting Up Shop: This week we will begin by identifying the needs of your system and the type of paper you need to be prepared to manage. We will also "set up shop" and build the basic template of the system you will learn in the weeks to come.

Week Two: Action and Catch-All Envelopes: This week you'll learn why the most common "paper rules" don't work—like handle each piece of paper only once. Brook Noel shares her Action Envelope system, and you'll learn how to create the Action Envelopes needed to run your home efficiently .

Week Three: Finances, Bank-Statements and all that Stuff: Tired of paying bills late or not being able to find a receipt when you need it? This week we add the Financial Envelopes to create an efficient system for managing money-related papers.

Week Four: Communication Central: With our paper stations in place it is time to create a central place to communicate with others in the household. This week we will cover how to set up a Communication Central system and get your family members on board to keep your system (and your household) running smoothly.

Week Five: Weekly and Monthly Processing: During our last week together ,we will review how to process your paper weekly and monthly to keep your new system streamlined, efficient, and organized.

Simplify Your Life

scaling back to discover more

Simplicity is about spending less time chasing and more time enjoying. It is about spending less time acquiring and more time experiencing. Simplicity is about spending less time managing life and more time living it. Brook Noel

When the simplicity movement burst on the scene a decade or so ago, Brook laughed. She thought simplicity was for people who “couldn’t keep up with life.” Brook did not realize then, as she does now, that simplicity was for people who wanted a better way to live. Like many of us, Brook had bought into the hype that the more she had, the more she did, the more she squeezed into a day – the richer her life would be.

As Brook confronted my own fears about the simple life, she realized simplicity didn’t require living in without electricity and eating only food she had grown and cultivated by hand (although for some people simplicity might involve those things) ... simplicity meant deciding that she would run her own life, getting off the treadmill, living consciously, and deliberately—making decisions that brought joy. Simplicity means trading in “busyness” for meaning, trading in confusion for clarity, and personal peace.

Instead of “buying-in” to our commercial culture, we “opt-out” and forge our own path. The reward for those who accept the challenge is great. Instead of living a life on auto-pilot, you live a life designed by clear decisions that align with what brings you, and those important to you, true joy.

In this class I share the steps I took to simplify my life and teach you how to also scale back but discover more. Here are just a few of the class topics:

- Recognizing what complicates our life
- Use values as a lens to simplify life
- Taking Action against “Little Stuff”
- Learn to live in the moment
- Contemplate how our decisions define our days
- Streamline errands and finances
- Evaluate how we spend time
- Nurture gratitude
- Simplify entertainment, wardrobe, meal planning and more
- Learn to say “no”
- Evaluate life commitments

Overcome Procrastination

how to get out of your own way and get things done

- Have you ever found yourself saying any of the following...
- "I know I should I really get this done, but I just don't know where to start."
- "I feel too overwhelmed to begin."
- "I'll never get caught up."

Or have you ever felt that...

- If I could just get one or two things accomplished, life would look a bit different?
- If I could just get started, I could do it.
- I don't know how other people get it all done--I must be a born procrastinator

You aren't alone. Procrastination is a word that has haunted many people but it doesn't have to! While many people would have you believe that springing into action and "just doing it" is the quickest cure, it isn't a long-term solution. All actions start with attitude. We have to uncover why we procrastinate and cure the cause in order to find long-term relief.

- Understanding why you procrastinate through our in-depth self-survey (You are in for a big surprise on this one!)
- Your personal procrastination type and the action steps for improvement
- How to use mini-boot-camps to get yourself moving
- How to uncover the attitude behind your action (or inaction)
- Journaling exercises to get to the bottom of your procrastination personality
- Learn how to reprogram yourself for success
- Complete obstacle exercises to discover solutions before problems arise
- Create a mission statement and action plan to overcome an area where you have been procrastinating

In this class, you'll complete a 50 question quiz to determine what procrastination personalities are present in your life. Then you will learn strategies to work with these personalities instead of against them and write a prescription for procrastination. Includes lessons and audio downloads.

Visual Journaling self-expression and discovery through images

It is often said that a picture is worth a thousand words, and those who keep visual journals have found that statement to be very true. If you have tried a written journal and become frustrated for lack of the “right word,” or if you want to take your journaling to another level, a visual journal may be the answer.

Week One: Setting Up Shop

In the first week of lessons you will learn about visual journaling and how visual journaling is often used. You are encouraged to do a daily “treasure hunt” to collect materials that can be used in your journaling process. This will make it easy to dive in further in the second week of lessons. You will also create a “journaling idea bank.”

Week Two: Visual Journaling Techniques

Daily visual journaling can be a simple and creative way to uncover how we feel and capture our lives in images. Some journal-keepers who try writing as their primary form of journaling find they become frustrated when they can’t find the “right words.” Visual journaling moves us past words to the use of images, images that often reveal much more than the words we cannot find. You will complete three lessons to help you uncover how easy and rewarding visual journaling can be. We will explore color, contrasts, creativity, and collage.

Week Three and Four: Five Exercises for Exploring the Self

Our adventure continues with additional exercises that serve as visual-journal prompts for exploring the self. We will explore the techniques of self-portrait collage, personal dictionary collage, gratitude collage, lessons collage and more. You will be encouraged to create at least two collage projects from the ideas we cover and will have a stock pile of ideas for long after the class. Instructions will illustrate the projects through step-by-step examples.

A note about supplies: Visual journaling does not require the purchase of expensive supplies. Typically most of the items used in visual journaling can be found around the house (scavenger hunt ideas are included in the opening lessons) such as old magazines, newspapers, computer printouts, etc. Most visual journals are created by working over the pages of an old or discarded book versus buying a journal.

Health Jumpstart

A 30 Day Program to Chart and Start Your Fitness Path

Walk by any newsstand or turn on the television, and it won't take long to find supposed solutions to the seemingly never-ending battle of weight loss. We all know the secret: eat less, exercise more-- but simplicity does not make the process easy! This 30 day course is designed to help you evaluate your current fitness level and health-habits in a new light. You'll then chart (and start) the changes to help you take your health to the next level. With step-by-step guidance, and easy-to-implement lessons, this program is for anyone seeking accountability, and a clear action plan, to guide their goal.

Week One: Building Healthy Habits

This week you'll learn about keeping a food diary, how attitude contributes (or hinders) success, and discover tools to help you (besides the scale). After evaluating your current fitness level, you'll create a realistic goal plan to guide you through the month ahead.

Week Two: Nutrition Tune-Up

This week we delve into your cupboards with attention to nutrition. You will learn how to create balanced and filling meals. We explore breakfast, snacks, lunches, menus, substitutes, eating out, a healthy pantry, and provide the nutritional background and basics to enable you to make healthy decisions. Finally we will cover vitamins and supplements.

Week Three: Let's Get Movin'

In our third week, we create our exercise plans, balancing cardio and strength-training. Learn how to make exercise work, no matter how busy you are! A special section explores exercise for both body and mind, including yoga. We will also look stretching and flexibility, which are often neglected components when we first get back into exercising.

Week Four: The Journey

With a solid foundation in place, we turn our attention to implementation. You will evaluate your progress and fine tune the tools you have discovered in this course. We wrap up with resources, mini-missions, and tips to help you continue your healthy changes as you work toward your health goal!

Self-Discovery Workshop a four-week inner journey

Have you ever had a question about what decision to make, what step to take next, or how to handle a challenge and been unable to look within for a confident answer? Have you ever felt the days are passing you by and you are "missing out" on the joy and richness of life?

Have you ever felt alone with your challenges and wished for Insight...

Answers...

Direction...

Support...

Meaning...

Confidence...

Inner peace...

Balance...

Purpose...

These are only a few of the many benefits to be found in the practice of self-discovery. When we create a routine to turn off "auto-pilot" in our life, and tune into our heart, mind, and soul we can enrich our days beyond measure.

In this four week journey Brook guides you through a series of self-discovery exercises and techniques to help you harness your inner resources and replace uncertainty with a clear path. You do not need to be a writer or creative to benefit from the practices you will learn; you simply need to be a participant.

WEEK BY WEEK OUTLINE:

WEEK 1-DIVE IN AND DISCOVER: Learn different techniques to dive into the process of discovery. From mind-mapping to word art, you'll complete a series of experiments to help you find the discovery style most beneficial to you.

WEEK 2-POSITIVELY POWERFUL: Explore how self-discovery can become a valuable ally in living your life to the fullest. Brook will teach you how to use affirmations, daily reflections, create a gratitude quilt, and how the law of attraction can be applied in your discovery work.

WEEK 3-NEW HORIZONS: Like a trip to the playground, our discovery exercises focus on possibility, exploring new directions, and getting in tune with you inner self to maximize new opportunities.

WEEK FOUR-LIFE REFLECTIONS AND DIRECTIONS: This week you will learn how to use your discovery entries as a guiding compass in your life.

ONLINE CLASSES F.A.Q.

Where can I obtain the full class schedule?

Your MTM Direct Consultant can offer you the class schedule or you can download it at www.maketodaymatter.net

How do online classes work?

All of our online class feature a very easy to navigate portal. We will email you information to log in and access your course. If you are taking more than one course, you will see a menu after login to choose which course to go to.

How do I get my login information?

The weekend before class begins you will be sent your system user ID and password to login to our community support and learning system. If you are an MTM Member, simply login with your MTM credentials and the course will appear in your menu on the stated date.

Are there certain times I need to be online?

Our classes do not require you to be present at a specific time of day. We use downloadable lessons, message boards, and an online event room to allow you to work through each lesson whenever it fits into your day.

How much time does a class take?

Each class varies depending on your personal goals. For example with Extreme Home Makeover a small house will likely be easier to work through than a large one! All of the class resources are downloadable so you can continue to review them after the course is completed.

Do I need to know how to use certain programs or have any specific software?

All that is required is an internet connection. You can log on to the course portal on the World Wide Web. Our class portals are extremely easy to use, no internet or message board finesse required.

On the class portal page you will be able to:

- Share on our private message board, and receive step-by-step help on the journey
- Access and print or download your lessons and worksheets
- Network with other class members through the instant messaging system, or message boards

Is there a registration deadline?

FAITH MATTERS

About Faith Matters

Created by bestselling author Brook Noel, each Faith Matters study is broken down into bite-size doses of daily devotion, providing questions and reflection space to apply God's Word to your life.

Faith Matters studies are available in 4 formats: As Mini courses, they are free to Make Today Matter members; As instant downloads for individual use; As printables for offline studies/group studies; and as leadership guides for offline study groups. Pricing is on page 75.

A Path of Purpose

Welch poet David Whyte wrote: "I don't want to have written on my tombstone, when finally people struggle through the weeds, pull back the moss, and read the inscription there: 'He made his car payments.'" While humor is found in Whyte's quote, great truth is also revealed. My guess is he struggled with the questions that loom over so many of us: • What is it all for? • Why am I here? • What am I supposed to be doing with my life? In this Faith Matters study we explore similar struggles faced throughout the Bible, and the wisdom God's Word can shed on purpose. 18 pages

Living by Example: Guidance for Living God's Word

Okay... so we might all agree that the Bible makes a great guide for living and that God's word and the examples of Jesus are timeless principles that offer a ray of light to all who strive to follow these footsteps. Yet how do we bring these words alive in our own life? How do we go from reading God's Word to LIVING God's word? What can we learn from the teaching of Jesus that can guide us day-in and day-out as we face conflict, stress, difficult choices, or confused emotions? In this Faith Mattes Study, we will read through timeless wisdom of the Bible and work to live by example by incorporating this wisdom into our own life. Includes reflections and challenges for practicing these nuggets of wisdom in your daily life. 28 pages

Letting Go of Harmful Emotions

An exploration on releasing worry, anxiety, fear, and sadness "Therefore I say to you, do not worry about your life ..." (Matthew 6:25 NKJV) This study offers a guided exploration through releasing worry, anxiety, fear, and sadness by turning them over to God and finding strength in our faith. Verses and stories drawn from the Bible share knowledge and comfort on how to "Let go and Let God." This study includes 25 daily doses of study and a guided activity for building your own inspirational bookmarks. 14 pages.

FAITH MATTERS

Reconnecting with God

Any relationship can be challenging to maintain in today's busy life. Ask a woman how many close friends she has and most women can easily count them on one hand. Why? A close relationship requires a resource in tight supply for many–time. Combine that with life's challenges and upsets and sometimes relationships are shaken or shattered. This study explores what happens when our relationship with God is shaken. How do we reconnect? What does the Bible say? This study is divided into 14 daily doses of devotion. 10 pages

Character Counts

Character is the real “you”– it is who you are when everyone is looking, and maybe more importantly, who you are when no one is looking. In this Faith Matters study we look at fifteen important character traits found in the Bible and see how our character does (or doesn't) embody these traits. This realistic character self-portrait provides a spring board for healthy changes. 27 pages.

Practicing the Proverbs

This study explores 15 Proverbs and includes a call to action to put the Scripture into practice in your own life. There are two implementation ideas for each Proverb for a total of 30 ideas to implement over the course of the month. The study is designed as a printable journal to record your experience of practicing the Proverbs. 23 pages

Words to Remember

Fix these words of mine in your hearts and minds... Deuteronomy 11:19 Dallas Willard, professor of Philosophy at the University of Southern California, wrote, “If I had to choose between all the disciplines of the spiritual life, I would choose Bible memorization, because it is a fundamental way of filling our minds with what it needs.” In this Faith Matters study we will learn the basic of memory verses, share favorite verses, learn memorization techniques and tips, and create memory verse cards. Includes a printable page of 8 business-card sized-memory verses. 13 pages

Explorations

God created the Bible in its entirety–selective reading is like reading just one chapter of a book or seeing one scene of a movie–you will likely gain some knowledge, but lose the context. When we take the time to truly delve into the Bible and begin looking at the context, the times, the people and the places we can find captivating events and people, many facing experiences we can relate to.

In this Faith Matters Study, we work through how to deepen our knowledge of Scripture by applying techniques, tools, prayer, and resources to work through a book in the Bible. Note: This Faith Matters Study teaches a series of steps that can be applied to help you explore the book of your choosing. 11 pages.

FAITH MATTERS

Love Is...

One of Brook's favorite Bible passages comes from 1 Corinthians, Chapter 13: 4 Love is patient, love is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud. 5 It is not rude, it is not self-seeking, it is not easily angered, it keeps no record of wrongs. 6 Love does not delight in evil but rejoices with the truth. 7 It always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres. 8 Love never fails. In this Faith Matters Study we explore what love is and how to live each day with love— love of God, love of life, love of self, love of others. 31 pages

Exploring the Psalms

The study is comprised of daily readings from the Books of Psalms along with reflection questions and information about the Psalm authors. We will explore how we can learn from the Psalms to enhance our own prayer lives and deepen our relationship with God. 21 pages

The Power of Prayer

In this Faith Matters Study, we explore the Power of Prayer and how to enrich our prayer life day-to-day. In addition to reflection questions on God's Word, we explore practical instructions for keeping a prayer journal and using prayer time to enrich our connection with God. 17 pages

Straight to the Point

While James is only a short five chapters, this Book offers 54 direct commands, without mincing words on living the Christian life. The simple and straightforward approach of this Jerusalem church leader and brother of Christ covers a wide range of conflicts, topics, and wisdom with clear guidance and a challenge to put our faith into action. The writing and topics explored touch on the core of today's challenges—facing difficulty, doubt, adversity—and are as relevant now as in 50.A.D. In this study Brook guides participants through the five chapters of this book in depth and apply James wisdom to our lives while also exploring the self-reflection prompts through the book. 40 pages.

Managing Your Moods

It is no secret that women tend to experience a wide variety of emotions. Within a single day we can go from upbeat to discouraged and then some. Inviting God's presence and God's word to guide us can enable us to increase positive, growth-providing emotions and decrease those that are harmful and limiting to both ourselves and those around us. This Faith Matters Study will guide you through self-reflection, insight from scripture, and finding God's wisdom for managing your moods and emotions. 28 pages.

FAITH MATTERS

Applying the Parables I & II

“He began to teach them many things in parables.” (Mark 4:2)

Stories have always been a way to relate and share to one another. Jesus used simple word-pictures, called parables, to help people understand who God is and offer guidelines for living God’s word. According to Don Schwager, “This was Jesus most common way of teaching. His stories appealed to the young and old, poor and rich, and to the learned and unlearned as well. Over a third of the Gospels by Matthew, Mark, and Luke contain parables told by Jesus. Jesus loved to use illustrations to reach the heart of his listeners through their imagination. These word-pictures challenged the mind to discover anew what God is like and moved the heart to make a response to God’s love and truth. Like a skillful artist, Jesus painted evocative pictures with short and simple words. A good picture can speak more loudly and clearly than many words. Jesus used the ordinary everyday to point to another order of reality — hidden, yet visible to those who had “eyes to see” and “ears to hear”. His parables are like buried treasure waiting to be discovered (Matt. 13:44)”

In the two Faith Matters Parable Studies, we work through eight Parables of Jesus (four in each study) to explore the meaning and understand the message these treasure hold for us today.

Parable Study I 13 pages
Parable Study II, 10 pages

Renew Your Mind

In the Book of Romans we are instructed, “...do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind.” What does it mean to “renew your mind?” The answer can be found in the full verse: “And do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind, that you may prove what is that good and acceptable and perfect will of God.” (Romans 12:2)

This verse was a springboard for Brook to ask some tough questions:

- How often does my attitude and thinking align with God’s Word?
- Am I a willing participant in directing my thoughts and attitude toward the will of God?
- Do I let autopilot take over in my life?
- Is my mind constantly renewed and fed with God’s Word or is holding onto unhealthy messages?

As she sought to answer each question, Brook realized that the best place to feed and renew her mind was with God’s Word. In the end, she compiled 21 verses to create a “Renew Your Mind Month.” This Faith Matters Study acts as a compass to help participants to renew their mind. 28 pages.
